What We Do For God and Country

What we do for God and country Defines who we are
 As a people, as a nation,
 When we're viewed from afar.
 Are we welcoming to others?
 Do we lend a helping hand?
 Do we honor our forefathers
 Who pioneered this land?
 Are we still a united nation
 From sea to shining sea?
 Is the American dream
 All that it should be?
 We are freedom-loving people,
 The envy of the world;
 We have long been respected
 Where our flag is unfurled.
 God has blessed us beyond measure
 On so many ways
 And as long as we are faithful, He'll forever bless our days.
 Let us put aside our differences,
 Embrace the common good,
 And let freedom reign forever
 In every neighborhood!

My Favorite Barista

One morning, I told my husband jokingly that he'd dropped the ball because he hadn't made me coffee and I was having trouble getting motivated to start the day.
 My five-year old son overheard me and asked me to explain what "dropped the ball" meant.
 Few minutes later, he came into our bedroom holding an overflowing coffee mug with a dishcloth underneath it to catch the drips.
 He said to my husband, "You dropped the ball, but I picked the ball up," and he handed me the worst-tasting, most watered down but sweetest cup of coffee ever.
